

Question of the Month
Responses for October 2018

Supporting literacy and numeracy through play.

What parent or parent/child workshops could the nursery offer?

Literacy and numeracy so that we are all using the same terminology.

Behaviour Strategies.

Space rockets, making bubbles, cooking, Lego and Disneyland Paris

Baking, making playdough and making slime.

Nursery response:

- As part of our open sessions at the end of November we have included an information session where both literacy and numeracy will be discussed.
- We have run parent and child Bookbug sessions in Term 1 and are planning to run a 'You and your Child' parenting course in January.
- Our Challenge of the Month for November includes a recipe for playdough.
- We will take on board your suggestions when running our next parent and child workshop later in the school session. We may not have the funding to manage Disneyland Paris ;-)
